ABOUT US

AUTUMN/WINTER 24/25

THE TIMELESS LOOM: CRAFTING THE THREADS FOR INFINITY

In Greek, Roman and Norse mythology, Clotho, Nona and Urd are often referred to as the Fates of Destiny. They are believed to determine the destiny of people by weaving the threads of life on a magical loom.

The Timeless Loom serves as a profound symbol of our connectedness and the profound impact our actions have on the environment.

Interwoven with the ancient mythology about the fated women, we drew from their divine inspiration for our first recycled wool collection for autumn/winter 24/25.

GUIDED BY THIS ETHOS, WE EMBARK ON A JOURNEY FOR BETTER FASHION WITH BRICOLAGE.

Our planet, the cradle of creativity, calls us to cherish and care for it and inspire us to make conscious choices that keep our resources in circulation.

Together through sustainable fashion practices, we can weave a tapestry of environmental awareness and social responsibility.

PRODUCTION

IN EUROPE

Textile recycling can start at different stages of the value chain. With our TEXTILE UPCYCLE STUDIO & MANUFACTURE, we start at the beginning and do not defiber.

Our software-based recycling process called RECONNECTED, which we developed over the last years offers a cost-effective and resource-efficient recovery solution. Furthermore, the textile production happens directly in pattern pieces and not by the meter.

This all reduces the environmental impact, in our textile production and assembling to conventional value chains in the clothing industry.

FEEDSTOCK

Post consumer waste from textile sorting/recycling companies (EU).
Production offcuts from 100% wool (IVN Best certified) from Germany.

We don't just focus on recycling, but have a broader vision for a circular fashion future. We firmly believe that by combining cutting-edge technology with eco-design strategies, we can reshape the way the fashion industry works.
